Endless rains set all kinds of records

Rains continue to drench Carmel Valley, causing mudslides, threatening homes and making rainwear a daily requirement.

Some rain was recorded each day during the past week, and the forecast is for sunshine Wednesday and Thursday, but "more of the same" before the end of the week.

As far back as local records are kept, this is the wettest year ever.

The 12.53 for January is the most for any month in the past 11 years – more in fact than for the entire season last year and two other years.

And already in February (up through Tuesday morning), another 7.62 inches fell – the second wettest month on record. It beat the 7.16 inches which fell back in February of 1962.

With February still having a few days to go, the 20.15 inches which has already fallen in the 2 month period of January and February exceeds the entire seasonal rainfall during each of the past 10 years.

SUNDAY STORM

The worst storm during the past week occurred Sunday night, when 1.52 inches were recorded along with violent winds and just about everything else. Power was off for many hours in different parts of the Valley, and mudslides imperiled C.V. Road at several points, particularly near the Farm Center.

Carmel River roared down to the sea, but below flood level. It did carry masses of debris and large trees and limbs which were loosened and washed away. And C.V. Road near Miramonte was further weakened, endangering even the one lane still open.

Local rainfall during the past week, according to the local Fire Department weather station:

DATE	INCHES
Feb.
19	.98
20	.10
21	.20
22	.17
23	.71
24	1.52
25	.11
Total rainfall, last week	3.79
Total rainfall, season	26.07

A MUDSLIDE on Carmel Valley Road near the Farm Center temporarily closed this main artery Monday morning. Heavy equipment workers moved the wet earth aside quickly, reopening the Road.

Carmel to play Santa Cruz for area honors

Carmel High, champs of the Mission Trail Athletic League, clashes with Santa Cruz High, winners of the Monterey Bay loop, tonight (Wednesday) in the Central Coast Regional basketball playoff, in the Cabrillo College gym.

The winner will meet Mora on Thursday evening for the right to move on up to the Central Coast Sectional tourney at San Jose on March 7 and 8.

The Carmel Padres aren't given much of a chance.

PADRES UPSET

But then they could surprise as much as Gonzales High did last Thursday night. Playing at home, Gonzales rose to unexpected heights by polishing off Carmel 43-42 in overtime.

It was the first loop loss for the Padres.

Bruce Winkler couldn't pull this one out for Carmel, and was held to a season low of 12 points. The absence of such stalwarts as Steve Taylor and Ross Smith hurt Carmel.

Pete Shaw had 11 and Chris Laiolo 10 for Carmel; Gonzales had an even attack, too, with John Rohloff scoring 11 and Pete Maturino adding 10. But Bob Chapman scored the winning field goal in overtime – 2 of his 4 game points.

BEAT HOLLISTER

Carmel rolled over Hollister High 76-62 last Tuesday night at Carmel. This time Winkler had 23 and Shaw 17, as the Padres looked their usual sparkling selves.

Few thought the roof would cave in at Gonzales two nights later.

EDITORIAL

More about Carmel Valley Road

I'm sorry to report that no avalanche of mail or phone calls resulted from an editorial a couple of weeks ago about Carmel Valley Road.

There were a few phone calls, and the callers did emphasize that something ought to be done about that dangerous curve about a mile west of the Village.

(This is the curve that has cost countless lives down through the years.)

One caller did point out something very interesting about our main road to Carmel.

He emphasized that if a driver were to be guided only by the center marking stripes, he would be in serious trouble. In fact, he said that there are some two dozen places where the road is marked as a passing zone, when actually it would be very foolhardy to do so.

Fortunately, practically all drivers use caution and the widely-preached "defensive driving" technique, rather than be guided by the presence or not of double or single solid yellow center lines.

The problem simply is that there are solid yellow center lines – but not nearly enough. A naive driver who didn't look ahead for the next curve would be in serious trouble if he tried to pass at a lot of places where there is no solid yellow stripe on his side of the road.

I do not pretend to be an expert in this business of marking roads, and the most I can do is suggest that the road department add some more solid yellow stripes where they are obviously needed, or simply mark Carmel Valley Road from beginning to end with signs like "Caution: Twisting Road, Drive with Care".

Carmel Valley Road is basically a scenic road, but it also has to be a practical road. The traffic on it is heavy, and the volume is steadily increasing.

Much work has been done on it.

More is now in the planning stages.

But let's face it. In places it is also a treacherous road. It should be marked properly.

And the highest priority should be given to fixing that big hazard on Carmel Valley Road near Country Club Drive.

The temporary hazards incident to the washout near Miramonte Road are not inconsequential either. Not only may Carmel Valley Road, where it is one way, erode and subside even more, but the by-pass itself is just barely driveable.

I hope that no serious accidents occur on it during this emergency. And I express the views of everyone by saying that any time that can be saved in making the permanent repairs on the washout would be greatly appreciated by everyone.

The present estimate is four months. It's going to be a very long four months for the thousands of people who use this road each week.

PERSPECTIVE

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I am writing to correct a false and damaging statement which appeared as a news story on the front page of your February 19 issue.

I vacated my position on the Upper Carmel Valley Advisory Committee because I was asked to do so by a spokesman for the Planning Commission who said there were political pressures for a new appointment.

I still live in the Upper Carmel Valley where we own exactly one piece of property – our home.

My "interests" and "orientation" are the same as they have always been during my years of service on the Advisory Committee – the tasteful, orderly development of the Valley, with emphasis on low density, primarily residential zoning and respect for the Master Plan.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Corenne Smith

Dear Outlook:

Here is some info on the CYCYC Saturday movies for the month of March.

After many years of 1:00 and 3:00 Saturday matinee movies the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center announces that due to a lag in attendance there will be only one showing at 2:00 for two hours. After six years of 1:00 and 3:00 showings, we regret that we must take the stand of having one complete show at 2:00.

For those who have not taken advantage of our Saturday movies, the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center presents a top family feature film, plus short subjects every Saturday. In this day and age of violence on television and in the movies, we are proud to present only Parents' Magazine and Legion of Decency approved feature films, most of them in color.

Admission is only 35¢ which is used to pay for film rentals; all of the time to put on the movies is donated. There is always adult supervision and a well-stocked snack-bar with everything from Hot Dogs to ice-cream. The Community Youth Center, (for new Valleyites) is located on Ford Road, just down the street from Tularcitos School.

Dear Editor:

It is encouraging to note in the press that the local chamber of commerce has mentioned the need for a master plan for the Village, a long overdue move. Considering there is enough zoned commercial property and potential land for motels, apartment houses, etc., to satisfy the most eager developers, a plan for the use of such land should be prepared forthwith. Such a move might also lead to some agreement as to location of roads leading into and beyond the Village. The lack of definite plans for the Village is a drag on the Valley master plan.

The Carmel Valley Master Plan, adopted by the Board of Supervisors, January 1961, which I have just read for the umpteenth time, states that the recommendations are based on the attitudes and desires of the people of Carmel Valley as determined by the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association. It is therefor natural and proper that the C.V.P.O.A. considers itself the guardian of the master plan and should carefully examine any attempt to change or defeat its basic intent.

The master plan reflects the philosophy prevailing at the time of its adoption. There are many suggestions for conservation of scenic beauty, parks, and recreational areas. As for parks, this has dwindled to Jack's Peak park, small in size and acquired by public subscription. It seems the more prosperous we become, the less we are concerned with the need of others.

As to guides for development it states (1) the character of the Valley is to be mainly residential farming, (2) building sites are to be generally one acre or greater. There are altogether 12 items mentioned as guides and one which bears notice is that through traffic should be routed out of the floor of the Valley. Another important section of the plan is a slope study embracing 24,300 acres, with proposed slope density. It was the violation of this proposed slope density that caused the difference in attitude toward the units granted the Del Mesa Carmel development, where the C.V.P.O.A. supported the master plan and the local chamber of commerce supported the developer.

Now comes Mr. Willard Branson, our supervisor, and states that the one acre minimum cannot be maintained forever and would in the course of ten years be an obsolete requirement and therefor the C.V.P.O.A. should review and recommend changes in the master plan. This sounds like asking a military commander, while winning, to prepare for retreat. If we still have years of grace, let us enjoy them, Mr. Branson, and leave the preparation for the day of doom till it becomes imminent.

The master plan was prepared primarily by the county planning division, as required by law. So, why not have the county planning staff prepare a study from data and technical knowledge available at that level? The C.V.P.O.A. has neither the money nor resources (and properly no desire) to prepare a study downgrading its most valuable contribution to the people of Carmel Valley, namely, the master plan.

This is a matter in which the residents should inform themselves. Let us serve the community and let the community serve us.

HEARD FROM THE PULPIT Sunday.....

My face, I don't mind it
It's me, here behind it
It's the people in front
That get the jar.

SPOTTED ON LAURELES GRADE Saturday morning ..... a young woman in a Volkswagen picking yellow daffodils from the front of the Robinson Ranch. Every Spring Valleyites have enjoyed the thousand daffodils Lois Robinson planted in front of her home. She reports that by evening they were ALL GONE.

There are thousands more planted in the meadows of her fields, which she will gladly give instead of the ones along the highway which we all enjoy in the Spring.

Several months ago just before Christmas, vandalism struck again when a rare Sequoia Gigantia was cut down from the front of her residence.

SOMEBODY READ the story of Tim Ray's minibike and we are glad to report that it was returned. It was spotted on the air strip dump, a little rusty, but none the worse for wear.

SNOWED IN – and rained out – newlyweds Denis and Judy Barry finally found their destination in Carmel Valley.

A wedding party of 40 found themselves snowed in at a reception in Saugus, Mass. with the bride and groom for the night. Digging out the next day, the bridal pair shed their wedding finery for traveling togs. Many hours and weather delays later, they arrived at the Monterey Airport late at night in a downpour.

Eileen Bulmer, expecting them at Los Laureles Lodge, feared they couldn't find the Valley in the dark – so she called the No. 1 car rental who conveyed them to a Monterey motel for the night.

Determined to reach the Valley, the couple drove out the next day. They found this a paradise, and promise to come back, maybe permanently.

A HIKE UP THE SLOPES of Pinyon Peak Saturday morning with the Sierra Club limbered up the old bones. Wild flowers – Shooting Stars, Hounds Tongue, Trilium, Zigademous, and many more – are in bloom. The views of Robinson Canyon, Carmel Valley and Garzas Canyon are worth the climb.

THE MONTEREY PENINSULA had the honor last week of hearing and seeing in person "one of the 10 most famous obscure Americans".

This self-description was made by Herman Kahn, head of his own "think tank" – The Hudson Institute at White Plains, N.Y.

Mr. Kahn spoke at the Naval Postgraduate School and also held a news conference.

Our editor attended the news conference, and had this to say:

"Mr. Kahn may have been obscure, but that veil was torn away completely after an in-depth 'profile' in a recent issue of Life Magazine.

"That article painted Mr. Kahn as one of the most influential men in the world; his influence, and his technique for being influential, are unique. He has a way of bullying and overwhelming his listeners – important people in and out of government who not only make policy but carry it out at almost every level.

"His performance at Monterey belied this portrait. He was humble, personable and articulate; but not altogether comprehensible. He did, coming straight from an oracle, say this:

"The widespread student dissent is participatory democracy at work, but it is being carried to anarchism. It will soom be stopped.

"There will be no nuclear war by the year 2000, but nuclear devices may be used.

"It is more of a danger than widespread starvation due to overpopulation.

"Red China has reached its zenith and is going down. Japan will be the big power in Asia. There is no evidence of a showdown between the big Communist powers; Russia and China will engage in skirmishes only."

There you have it. Mr. Kahn said so.

MANY HANDS pick over the rocky soil.

It's more than just playing in the dirt...

JARRETT McGUCKIN talks it over with first grade teacher, Elaine Green.

BREAKING DOWN THE soil with a hammer, Bari Roberts used newspaper as base.

It sounds like playing in the dirt, but the first grade students of River School at the mouth of the Valley are being taught an applied science under the instruction of their teacher, Elaine Green.

They work in teams of five in gathering samples of dirt and sand from the school grounds. They analyze it with the aid of a magnifying glass, and break it down with water or hammers.

The results are kept and used in the building of a compost. Crumbled leaves are added to the dirt and sand and eventually seeds are planted. The children watch these grow into plants.

CURTIS ISHIKAWA falls across fence to gather samples.

FIRST GRADE TEACHER Elaine Green instructs class on procedures before they go out to gather dirt samples.

March is busy month for Scouts

A busy week is on schedule beginning March 1 for the Carmel Valley Boy Scout Troop 127.

A special "get-acquainted" troop meeting will be held at the Community Center, Wednesday March 5, at 6:45 p.m. with both mothers and fathers invited as well as anyone interested in scouting.

District Scout executive Robert E. Goepfert of the Monterey Bay Area Council will show a film and discuss the scout program.

The adult troop committee will meet on Monday, March 3. A ski-skating trip is scheduled for the week-end at Yosemite Valley.

ATTENDANCE DOUBLED

"We have doubled our attendance since December," he said. "We are now planning a program, that should excite every boy in the community. To join – you have to be at least eleven, and be interested."

The 24-hour trip to New Brighton Beach was a success with 17 boys attending, according to Ted Seashore, scoutmaster, who was accompanied by his four year old son, Carl.

Other adult leaders attending were Ronald Petree and Gary Eldridge. In the darkness, the scouts set up two separate camps and captured a prisoner. After a breakfast that each scout prepared himself, the park ranger gave a talk about plants, park regulations, and told the story of Smokey the Bear.

Before returning, the scoutmaster prepared a complete dinner in the Cortez Motor Home for all.

Community Chapel to change time of service

A new family worship hour of 10:00 a.m. is planned for the Carmel Valley Community Chapel, in Carmel Valley Village, beginning Sunday, March 2.

Planned for the convenience of both young and old, it requires only one trip to church instead of two or more.

The starting time of Church School is now 10:00 a.m. in place of 9:45 a.m.

The morning worship service will now be at 10:00 a.m. instead of the former 11:00 a.m. time. This service will be for young people and adults. It will include active participation from time to time by the young people as well as the Youth Choir.

All Church School classes will meet in a combined opening program under the direction of Mrs. Don Johnson with Mrs. Richard King as song leader, before going to their individual classes. Nursery care for toddlers in the Educational Bldg. and Infant care in the Crib Nursery of the Chapel will be provided.

Special soloists and instrumental music will be planned by Chris Hungerland, the music director of the Chapel and youth choirs. The interim organist is Miss Judy Van Arsdale.

Parents will be able to attend worship service at the same time their children attend Sunday School. The 10 o'clock hour will enable those visiting relatives and friends to obtain an earlier start.

The pastor, Rev. Don Johnson, stated that coffee would be served immediately after services to encourage a few moments of fellowship. The Community Church is located at Paso Hondo and Village Drive, one block south of Carmel Valley Road.

Garden Thoughts

by Salih Mehdy

of the Oleander Garden Shop

Ouch! – the handle of your rake gives you a thump on your head.

This could have been avoided by keeping the rake with its teeth (tines) down. When they are facing up and you step on them, usually you get such a blow. Better yet, always put the rake against the wall or a bush with tines down, facing the wall.

A gardener using hoe, shovel, cultivator or fork must wear heavy shoes. Sandals or tennis shoes do not protect your feet in case one of these tools strikes you.

Beware of the dangers of the rotary lawn-mower.

Never try to tinker with it while the motor is on. Turn it off and disconnect the engine from the spark plugs before doing anything.

Before mowing, see that the lawn is free of toys, wires, rocks and other objects. These things can be shot like a bullet by the blade. Any person in the path of this missle can be hurt badly.

If your power mower is self-propelled, be sure to disengage the engine from the wheels.

Just like a car, it should be in neutral position before you turn the ignition key. Do not add gas while the engine is on. Turn it off and let it cool for a few minutes. Use a funnel, so no gas will be spilled on parts which are still hot.

Another recommended safety aid for people doing gardening is to have a tetanus shot, and the booster shot when necessary.

When burning garden trash and other things, start the fire with newspapers, not with gasoline. Gasoline is too inflammable and dangerous. Always have a hose connected to the faucet and ready for use, so that you can always dampen the fire when it looks threatening.

ATTRACTIVE YARDS

Vines, shrubs and trees are used very cleverly by homeowners to conceal some unattractive spots in their gardens, such as clothes-lines, garbage cans, shabby tool sheds, gas tanks, and so on.

These owners have a sense of beauty and are striving to make all of their garden beautiful. Very often they are not aware that some of the things they are trying to conceal still could be seen by their neighbors.

A friend of ours, instead of fuming and developing ulcers, invited the neighbor to share refreshments with him on a nice afternoon.

The guest noticed some of the eye-sores visible on his property and remarked about them. So the two neighbors work together to improve their surroundings and remain good friends.

Nurseries usually carry two or three varieties of tomatoes. Sometimes you cannot find your favorite one.

You can buy the seeds now and start them inside a shallow pot or in small peat moss pots, called Jiffy Pots. Sow 3 or 4 seeds in each jiffy pot and when plants are about 2" high, keep the most healthy, sturdy plants and discard the rest. Plant outside in your vegetable plot after frost danger is over. Protect the small plants from snails, slugs, and earwigs by using bait around them.

TALK TO THE ANGELS?

As a child, my mother used to tell me how an angel whips the clouds in front of him to make it rain, so the farmers can grow their crops.

Children are children everywhere and a practical question popped into my head.

I looked at the pans gathering water from a leaky roof and asked, "If the rain was meant for the farmers, then why does the angel make it rain in the city and make it difficult for us with all these pans?"

My poor mother had to find some kind of an answer and she said, "This is God's way and we do not know all his plans."

In view of our current deluges, I hope some day we can communicate with that angel and request him to distribute the rain over a longer period of time!

Barbershop harmony to be featured at show March 7, 8

THE B SHARPS

It's time for Barbarshop harmony chords to ring again as the Monterey Peninsula Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America presents its 15th annual Barbershop show, "Harmony at Sunset" at the Sunset Auditorium in Carmel on Friday and Saturday evenings, March 7 and 8, at 8:14 p.m.

The show cast this year includes The Old Time Harmony Four from San Jose; The Glad Dads from Santa Rosa, who won the Norcal Novice Quartet Contest held in Monterey in January; The Upside Downeys from Downey, California; The B Sharps from Monterey; and the Monterey Peninsula Chapter chorus.

The B Sharps have been singing together since 1968 and gather from Salinas, Marina and Monterey to work on their songs and routines. All are experienced Barbershop singers, and their presentations are always a pleasing, balanced blend of heart-warming old ballads and humorous "up-tempo" numbers which never fail to delight audiences.

The Upside Downeys began singing together in December, 1965. They have appeared on radio and television, and have traveled throughout California, Utah, and Arizona. They come to the Sunset stage direct from a successful 17-day USO tour of the Pacific hospitals.

Tickets for the show are available at the Thunderbird Book Store (Carmel Valley); Central Box Office (Carmel); Holman's (Pacific Grove); and Abinante's Music Store (Monterey).

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

"ITALIAN NIGHT" PARTY

Rain beating on the corrugated plastic roof of the Sam Coronas' party-prone-patio failed to dampen the spirits, but made the red and white checked table cloths used for atmosphere last Friday evening all the more warm and inviting.

"Italian Night" was the theme of the Valentine potluck dinner prepared by the Ladies Auxiliary for their husbands, the members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department.

Mrs. Erasimo Belleci, Auxiliary president, and Mrs. Sam Corona, an honorary lifetime member of the group, prepared the main course which was spaghetti and meat balls.

The date coincided with the fourth anniversary of Rosemary and Stan Roberts who were presented with a beautifully decorated cake. Barbara Belleci had baked the attractive confection which proved impossible to cut by the honorees since it was made of.....cotton!

Wives and their Valentines who attended were Messrs. and Mmes. Ken Van Hagen, Chip Collins, Don Cummings, Bill Ijams, Jr., Erasimo Belleci, Robert Oross, George Palmer, Bill Nelson, Don Corona, Charles Gansel, Don Laird, Bill Parham, Art Harber, John Woods and Larry Cummings.

FLEMING PROMOTED

A resident of Hitchcock Canyon, Ronald F. Fleming, has been appointed to the position of supervisor of inspection for the Schilling Division of Mc Cormick and Co., Inc. Harry K. Wells, corporate vice president, general manager for the concern which is a producer of spices, flavorings, extracts, and other food products, made the announcement.

A former supervisor of the Spice Mills, Fleming received his B.S. degree in agriculture from California State Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo in 1956. During his eleven years with McCormick, he has been a methods engineer and served in various plant supervisory positions.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

Mrs. Christopher Spaulding entertained a group of friends last week at a Koffee at her home on Via Milpitas. Guests served by Valerie were Eva Doelman, Pam Rasmussen, Ethyl Radowitz, Virginia Stevenson, Patricia De Amaral, Louise Friday and Nancy Green.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS BUSY

The three groups of Camp Fire Girls led by Mrs. Cleve Harris, Mrs. Rex Pryer and Mrs. Gordon Harlander enjoyed a roller skating party on Lincoln's birthday at the Del Monte Gardens in Monterey.

Mrs. Pryer's group, who call themselves Tanda, made the decorations for the annual meeting of the Camp Fire Girls, Monterey Bay Council, held recently at the Dutch Motor Lodge. Miniature trees hung with Indian symbols made by the Valley girls were used about the tables.

Donald R. Nelson of Pacific Grove was elected new council president. Valleyites serving on the board will be Mrs. Thomas Bottaro and Michael Antoncich III, who was also elected to the nominating committee.

Others attending from the Valley were Mrs. Ronald Nicholson, who sponsors the Bluebird group led by Mrs. Patricia DeAmaral, and Mrs. Pryer.

FUN IN THE SNOW

Describing the snow at Pinecrest as a "refreshing change from ALL of our rain" were Laurel Drive residents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee and children Sandra, Christine, and Geoffrey, and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Pryer and daughters Sandra and Nancy of Calle de La Paloma, who spent a good portion of last week in the ski area at Dodge Ridge. The two Valley families skiied, toboganned, and had great fun on their rented Sno-mobiles.

SURPRISE PARTY

After — holiday — doldrums haven't a chance in Carmel Valley where EVERYBODY seems to celebrate a February birthday!

Among those last week was a surprise party (his first in... 39 years!) for Bill Walker. While Beth skillfully maneuvered him to the Rancho Road home of Ruth and Jack Hermanson (to see a new lamp!), a group of friends were gathering on Carmel Valley Road at the Porter Marquard offices to form a caravan.

A merry evening followed at the Hermansons where Bill and his guests enjoyed dancing, cocktails and delicious snacks.

Extending were Mr. and Mrs. John Weir and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ziegler of Salinas, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sutton of Corral de Tierre, Capt. and Mrs. Melvin Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Santos Corona, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Skalyo, Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer and Mrs. Richard Dick. Mr. Dick was unable to attend.

Exciting news disclosed by Oley was that he was in Los Angeles where he had just accepted appointment as president of the California State Airlines.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Blue, the favorite color of the guest of honor, was used for the party given for eight-year-old Joey by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sturgill at the family home on Aliso Road. Cake, ice cream and games were enjoyed by Mimi Henderson, Paul DeAnza, Roy Kaminske, Tony LeAnza, Steve Draper, Paul LeAnza and Joey's brother, Vincent.

NOW HE IS FOUR

Cupcakes shared with the pre-schoolers who attend the story telling session at the Village Library on Wednesdays was Todd Gayman's way of telling his friends that he is now FOUR.

His mother, Mary El, assisted Children's County Librarian, Mrs. Louva Huntington with the distribution of cakes to eighteen small fry.

A family celebration at the Paso Hondo home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gayman, included his brothers, Scott and Brett and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horne.

KAREN IS TWO

Members of the "Sandbox Set" accompanied their mothers to a morning birthday party honoring two-year-old Karen Condon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Condon. Attending were Mrs. Daryl Jewett and Michael, Mrs. Salvadore Verde and Susan, Mrs. Sam LeAnza and Tony and Mrs. Dick Falge and Katie, Michael, and Gregory.

The Condons are now in their new home on West Garzas Road that was completed just in time for their pre-holiday occupancy.

20 YEARS AGO...

Those were the good old days ....Remember that meeting in March of 1949 at Panetta's ranch with Father O'Connell and Fred Horne appointing committees to form a non-sectarian youth group?

Meetings were to be held in the Airway Ranch barn and other adults donating their time were Mrs. R.B. Stoney, Harold Sand, Frank DeAmaral, Leo Tannous, and Charlie Allaire.

BENEFIT CARD PARTY

George Washington received a fitting tribute at the Benefit Bridge and Canasta party sponsored by the Guild members of the Carmel Valley Community Chapel.

Mrs. Paul G. Edwards of Laurel Drive was hostess to the thirty eight ladies attending assisted by Mrs. Irving Ollason.

A red, white and blue Uncle Sam hat with tapers of the patriotic hues centered the refreshment table laden with home baked cherry tarts. Pale blue cloths were used on the tables centered with red, white and blue carnations in vases filled with blue water. The vases as were the tallies carried silhouettes of the first president.

The high in bridge was won by Mrs. Willoughby Moore, second by Lydia Wright. Winners of canasta were Mrs. Vic Carp and Mrs. Harry Wolfe. Her many friends bid reluctant goodbyes to Mrs. Wolfe who has been a winter guest at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes. Mrs. Wolfe returned on Saturday to her home in Celina, Ohio.

GALA ANNIVERSARY

A five-layer anniversary cake called "Pan de Spangna" was the "piece de resistance" at the gala second anniversary celebration held on Valentine's Day at Lou's Casa Carmela.

While Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bottaro greeted their guests, Charlene Wells served the confection and Mary Ann Yuma presided at the wine punch bowl.

Mingling with the guests were the four artists whole 16 paintings will be displayed at Casa until mid-March. Each of the paintings had individual lights enabling the viewers to better enjoy the selection of landscapes and portraits of local interest.

Corsages were presented by the Bottaros to the artists, Mrs. Jean Hofsas, Mrs. Lucille Herbert, Mrs. Bernice Huber, and to the wife of Stan Span.

Among guests attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Reginald Kell, Norman Bundgard, John Dryden, Stephen Schaffer, William Wood, Rudi Marzi, William Dawson, Harry Timmins, Ken Van Hagen, Gordon Harlanger, Ernest Etherton, Paul Anthony, Donald Laird, Dr. and Mrs. David Morris, Dr. and Mrs. Charles McIntyre, Capt. and Mrs. Bernard Cassidy. Also Mmes. Moniel Hockert, Willoughby, Richard Dick, Ann Reinertson, Mary Clark, Nancy Johnson, Connie Smith, Joanne Sears, Vera Stokes, and Harvey Deal. Many others dropped by during the evening.

GET READY FOR SALE

According to Mrs. Lloyd Swanson, chairman of the Celestial White Elephant Sale which will be held on March 22 in conjunction with the Tularcitos Carnival "Out of this World", the bits of flotsam donated to date will have every adult in attendance gravitating to peruse many magnetically appealing castoffs.

Among recent donations are two twin beds, a crib and mattress and a (workable) chest type freezer. Sounds as though bargains galore will be found at this one!

Mrs. B.C. Forrester of Chaparral Road, whose hobby is old cookery as well as modern "canned" cookery, sends the following recipe taken from "Mrs. Hale's New Cook Book" published in 1858.

It appears under the heading of "Recipes for the Table."

ORANGE PUDDING

Grate three stale sponge biscuits and with them half the peel of a lemon and all the juice. Mix them in cold milk until they are quite soft.

Beat three eggs together and stir them by degrees into the biscuits. Mix with them a small teacupful of orange juice and a little sugar. Then a thick slice of butter well melted.

Mix all the ingredients together and put them in a dish with paste around the edges. Then bake it an hour in a slow oven.
